Sneak Peek into Spire 3.11 - Coming Soon!

Spire will be releasing this version as mainstream soon, so we wanted to give you an idea of what to expect:

- Sell Price Levels - Provide better understanding for the price levels by assigning a meaningful name. Prepare future price changes using effective dates for your various price levels.
- Inventory Sales Tax Exemptions – Better clarity for tax setup in inventory and the ability to create exemptions by product code.
- Import Updates – More control over timing and display of issues in your import file with features like Fail Fast and Clear All Matches.
- Ability to import User Defined Fields (UDFs) from an Excel spreadsheet.
- UDFs on editable list grids – Access UDF values right from the detail grid or line without extra clicks.
- And more to come...

A Case Study for implementing User Defined Fields in Spire

If you are interested in UDFs check out our blogpost highlighting how UDFs were utilized by one of our clients to solve a critical business problem.

Hassle-free EDI integration with Spire

The Spire SPS EDI integration makes it easy to connect Spire customers with trading partners while complying with the most commonly required documentation for e-commerce, drop-shipping and brick-and-mortar retail. Together, Spire and SPS will work with Spire Partners to examine the details of implementing and maintaining this integration. EDI testing, spec changes and map updates are provided so customers and Spire partners can focus on running their business.

If you have questions about EDI, or would like more information, our Team is always available to discuss your options so feel free to reach out!

SIP Tradeshow Recap

Thank you to everyone who took the time to attend and participate in the SIP Tradeshow 2023. The Spire content is available on the Spire YouTube Channel and can be searched for by topic. The Spire Integration Partner demonstrations from the tradeshow have been organized into their own playlist.

We have knowledge and experience with many of the third-party applications and vendors featured at the SIP Tradeshow and can work with you to ensure you find the right fit for your specific needs.
